

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

The Student Code of Conduct outlines the expected behaviour for students of the Australian Institute for Relationship Studies, Relationships Australia NSW.

Students enrolled in a course with the Australian Institute for Relationship Studies are required to ;

- * Treat other people with respect and fairness at all times
- * Respect confidentiality agreements developed as part of the training programs
- * Cooperate with the staff of Australian Institute for Relationship Studies and respond to directions by staff to maintain a safe environment
- * Participate in all experiential activities in an honest, responsible and ethical manner
- * Complete assignments and assessment tasks honestly and with integrity. All materials submitted for assessment will be the students own work.
- * Use equipment and property of Australian Institute for Relationship Studies in an ethical and careful manner
- * Return borrowed Library resources on time
- * Pay all fees levied by Australian Institute for Relationship Studies for attendance in courses in which the student is enrolled
- * 80% Attendance is required

Please refer to the Student Discipline Policy and Procedures
